

Pulp Erotica Archive Editorial Practice

- Copy originates in scans of original published texts, on file in the archive's physical repository. Scans are then read by OCR into Microsoft Word 2007, and corrected by cross-reference. Format is utilitarian.
- Printing errors are corrected, though idiosyncratic spellings/usages of import are preserved.
- Original pagination is recorded through the insertion of bracketed page-markers.
- Explanatory/critical footnotes are attached where relevant.
- Texts remain the intellectual property of their authors; added notes remain the intellectual property of the site's author, R.T. Elkin.
